ABOUT QUETTA

Born and raised in Baltimore MD, Quetta's talented mindset led her towards a world full of performance and artistry. When she turned 8 years old she started to realize her talented capabilities and to enhance them she decided to join different organizations in school and outside of school. Hip hop was her leading genre of dance and she showed off these natural skills in summer camp, parades, middle school organizations as well as high school organizations.

"SIMPLY AUTHENTIC"

Over the course of her performing she grew to love modeling as well. She was apart of two modeling organizations growing up and decided to keep modeling as one of her talented aspects. After high school, she decided on joining an agency at age 17 but was forced to attend college and continue her dance career after she received her Bachelor's. During college, she joined a dance team on campus her freshman year and by her senior year she became captain.

Her former leaders had given her the name, “Authentic”. This name was given to her as a gift because of how genuine and original she is when performing. She believes that a gift will go a long way when it’s valued with inspiration. So after graduating she continued to push as an artist and stay connected with performers throughout the DMV and eventually became an ambassador for Bliss Net where she shall continue to enhance her natural talents as a professional artist.
