About Ayla

Choreographer & Teaching Artist
Like a whirling force of nature, Reina Johns devotes her daily existence to choreography, teaching yoga, dancing and deepening her relationship with . the Creator.
Consistent principles invigorate Ms. Johns. At an early age Ms. Johns showed a love for dance. At nine years old she began formal training with the Forces of Nature Dance company based out of New York. While in middle school she began choreographing dances. While taking Dance in High School, she continued to hone her craft with choreography and the dance drill team of Oxon Hill, Maryland. Majoring in Dance and Dance History at San Marcos College in California, she continued to develop through instruction in Hip Hop and Lyrical Hip Hop, African, Modern and Jazz.

Yoga

Stretching exercises have always been important to Ms. Johns. With that in mind, she developed a profound interest in the art of yoga. Starting in 2021, Ms. Johns has been in instruction of the art of yoga and the health benefits of incorporating this art into her daily life as well as the instruction of others. During the pandemic she conducted several sessions online and recently in 2023 was able to complete her first in-person yoga class successfully.

CREATIVE MOVEMENT

The gift of dancing has been such a blessing for Ms. Johns. She believes this is what she was meant to do. Passion is energy. She believes that we all should focus on what excites us, and dance and teaching does that for Reina.
